

PRIVACY POLICY

This translation of our Privacy Policy is provided for convenience only.

The German version

(<https://www.hansevision.com/datenschutzerklaerung.html>) is legally authoritative for the interpretation of the provisions.

We welcome you to your visit to our website and thank you for your interest in our company. We take the protection of your personal data very seriously. We process your data in accordance with the applicable legislation on the protection of personal data, in particular the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the country-specific implementing laws that apply to us. With the help of this privacy policy, we provide you with comprehensive information about the processing of your personal data by us and the rights to which you are entitled.

Personal data is the information that makes it possible to identify a natural person. This includes, in particular, name, address, telephone number, e-mail address but also your IP address. Anonymous data is available if no personal reference to the user can be established.

1. Responsible body and data protection officer

Address: HanseVision GmbH (a Bechtle Group company), Atlantic Haus, Bernhard-Nocht-Strasse 113, 20359 Hamburg

Contact information: kontakt@hansevision.de, fon +49 (40) 2880 7590 – 0

Website: www.hansevision.com

Contact of the Data Protection Officer: dsgvo@hansevision.de

2. Your rights

First of all, we would like to inform you about your rights as a data subject. These rights are standardised in Articles 15 - 22 of the EU GDPR. This includes:

The right to information (Art. 15 GDPR),

The right to erasure (Art. 17 GDPR),

The right to rectification (Art. 16 GDPR),

The right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR),

The right to restriction of data processing (Art. 18 GDPR),

The right to object to data processing (Art. 21 GDPR).

To exercise these rights, please contact: dsgvo@hansevision.de The same applies if you have any questions about data processing in our company. They also have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority.

3. Rights of objection

Please note the following in connection with rights of objection:

If we process your personal data for the purpose of direct marketing, you have the right to object to this data processing at any time without giving reasons. This also applies to profiling, insofar as it is related to direct advertising.

If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, we will no longer process your personal data for these purposes. The objection is free of charge and can be made in any form, if possible to: dsgvo@hansevision.de

In the event that we process your data for the purposes of legitimate interests, you may object to such processing at any time on grounds relating to your particular situation; this also applies to profiling based on these provisions.

We will then no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing that outweigh your interests, rights and freedoms or the processing serves to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

4. Purposes and legal bases of data processing

The processing of your personal data complies with the provisions of the GDPR and all other applicable data protection regulations. Legal bases for data processing result in particular from Art. 6 GDPR.

We use your data to initiate business, to fulfil contractual and legal obligations, to carry out the contractual relationship, to offer products and services and to strengthen customer relationships, including offering local events, which may also include analyses for marketing purposes, customer satisfaction surveys and direct advertising. As a service provider for collaboration solutions, digital processes and service centers, we inform you about relevant innovations in this area. Your data will be used within the framework of contractual relationships (HanseVision GmbH products, support contracts, service quotas and so on).

Your consent to data processing may also constitute a data protection permission provision. Before granting your consent, we will inform you about the purpose of the data processing and your right of withdrawal.

If the consent also relates to the processing of special categories of personal data, we will expressly point this out to you in the consent. Processing of special categories of personal data in accordance with Art. 9 GDPR only takes place if this is necessary due to legal regulations and there is no reason to assume that your legitimate interest in the exclusion of processing outweighs it.

5. Recipients of the data / categories of recipients

Within our company, we ensure that only those persons who need it to fulfil contractual and legal obligations receive your data. The data for invoicing and quotation preparation is processed centrally by Bechtle AG and is subject to the applicable data protection regulations.

In certain cases, service providers support our specialist departments in the fulfilment of their tasks. The necessary data protection agreements have been concluded with all service providers. Service providers are, for example, shipping, payment services, credit checks, IT service providers.

6. Disclosure to third parties

We will only pass on your data to third parties within the framework of the legal provisions or with appropriate consent. Otherwise, it will not be passed on to third parties, unless we are obliged to do so due to mandatory legal provisions (disclosure to external bodies such as supervisory authorities or law enforcement authorities).

7. Third Country Transfer/Third Country Transfer Intention

Data will only be transferred to third countries (countries outside the European Union or the European Economic Area) if this is required by law or if you have given us your consent to do so or if this is necessary for the performance of the obligation.

We transfer your personal data to service providers or to group companies outside the European Economic Area, namely the USA and the UK.

Compliance with the data protection level is ensured by: e.g. EU standard contractual clauses / binding, corporate data protection regulations, etc. as well as other guarantees if necessary.

8. Storage period of data

We store your data for as long as it is needed for the respective processing purpose. Please note that numerous retention periods mean that data (must) continue to be stored. This applies in particular to retention obligations under commercial or tax law (e.g. Commercial Code, Tax Code, etc.). If there are no further retention obligations, the data will be routinely deleted after the purpose has been achieved.

In addition, we may retain data if you have given us permission to do so, or if there is a legal dispute and we use evidence within the limits of statutory limitation periods, which can be up to thirty years; the regular limitation period is three years.

9. Secure transfer of your data

In order to protect the data stored by us in the best possible way against accidental or intentional manipulation, loss, destruction or access by unauthorized persons, we use appropriate technical and organizational security measures. The security levels are continuously reviewed in cooperation with security experts and adapted to new security standards.

The exchange of data from and to our website takes place in encrypted form. We offer HTTPS as the transmission protocol for our website, in each case using the latest encryption protocols. There is also the possibility of using alternative communication channels (e.g. by post).

10. Obligation to provide the data

Various personal data are necessary for the establishment, execution and termination of the obligation and the fulfilment of the associated contractual and legal obligations. The same applies to the use of our website and the various functions it provides.

We have summarized details for you in the above point. In certain cases, data must also be collected or made available on the basis of legal provisions. Please note that it is not possible to process your request or execute the underlying obligation without providing this data.

11. Categories, sources and origin of the data

The respective context determines which data we process: This depends on whether you enter an enquiry into our contact form, register for the newsletter or whether you send us an application.

Please note that we may also provide information for special processing situations separately at a suitable location, e.g. when uploading application documents or when making a contact request.

When you visit this website, your browser transmits the following types of data, which are stored by us:

the browser type,

the IP address of the accessing terminal, the server requests (e.g. page views) including time and the referrer URL (i.e. the address of the previously visited website, if you have reached our website by clicking on a hyperlink from there).

These first three types of data are technically necessary in order to display the accessed pages of this website to you correctly. In addition, they can be used if necessary to maintain the secure operation of this website (e.g. to defend against hacking attempts). The referrer URL is used in anonymized form for statistical purposes. For reasons of technical security and in particular to defend against attack attempts on our web server, this type of data is also stored for a certain period of time in accordance with Art. 6 (1) (f) EU GDPR.

As part of a contact request, we collect and process the following data:

On our website, you can make various requests to us, e.g. to register for an event or to inquire about specific products. The individual contact forms are used to record the contact details necessary for communication (e.g. name, telephone number or e-mail address) and to record the content of your message. This data is used for customer relationship management (contact history) and to answer/fulfill your request.

We have summarised the data you have to provide in the various contact forms for you below. You can find out which information in the individual forms is mandatory or optional under point 13 of this privacy policy.

You will find a form on our website under the menu item Contact, where you can submit the following information. Data marked with a * are mandatory:

Depending on the job advertisement, information on language and IT skills, work and driving permits or residence permits may also apply.

On a voluntary basis, it is also possible to upload application-relevant information to our portal via one's own profile on social networks.

In order to protect the security and confidentiality of your data in the best possible way, we implement appropriate security measures. Your application documents will be transmitted to us in encrypted form by our application system. The precautions for data backup always correspond to the current state of the art.

As an alternative to the classic application, we offer you the opportunity to quickly apply to us via the link to your Xing/LinkedIn/Viadeo profile. If you choose this option, we will collect the following information:

Position*

Link to Xing/LinkedIn/Viadeo profiles*

Salary expectations*

We store your data during the application process in accordance with applicable law and delete it after six months after completion of the application process at the latest. The data will only be stored beyond this in cases in which we are obliged or entitled to do so, e.g. if you have given us permission to store your data for a specific, longer period of time or for the exercise of rights.

Regulations that oblige us to store data can be found, for example, in the Commercial Code or in the Tax Code. In addition, limitation periods must be observed. Further information can be found in the privacy policy as part of the application process.

In the case of newsletters, we collect and process the following data:

E-mail address*

12. Automated case-by-case decisions

Please note that we generally do not use purely automated processing processes to bring about a decision.

13. Contact form / contact by e-mail, chat or telephone.

Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a, b EU GDPR

There are contact forms on our website that can be used to contact us electronically. If you write to us via one of our contact forms, we process the data you provide in the contact form for the purpose of contacting us and answering your questions and requests, Art. 6 (1) (a), (b) EU GDPR.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed in that you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. The mandatory information required to contact us is explained below.

In addition, your IP address will be processed for reasons of technical security and to defend against possible attack attempts.

In order to protect the security and confidentiality of your data in the best possible way, we implement appropriate security measures. Your request is transmitted to us encrypted by using HTTP over SSL.

If you contact us by e-mail, we will process the personal data provided in the e-mail solely for the purpose of processing your request.

Forms and form data on the website:

Request for licenses & functional overviews (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)

There is a form on our website that can be used to request licenses and feature overviews. If you write to us about this, we will process the data you provide for the purpose of contacting you and sending you the documents you have requested.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed in that you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. This is your e-mail address on the one hand and your first and last name on the other hand to answer your inquiry personally. In addition, your IP address will be processed for technical reasons and for legal protection.

We will only store your personal data for as long as is necessary to achieve the stated purposes. Your personal data will be deleted after 24 months.

Product and performance information, as well as live demo (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)

On our website, it is possible to receive information about our offers and services or to request a live demo of them. If you use the form provided for this purpose, we will process your data in order to be able to provide you with the information or live demo.

In doing so, we observe the principle of data economy and data avoidance, as you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. This is your email address only.

In addition, you can voluntarily provide us with more information about your first and last name, your company, your telephone number and your preferred language. In addition, your IP address will be processed for technical reasons and for legal protection.

We will only store your personal data for as long as is necessary to achieve the stated purposes. Your personal data will be deleted after 24 months.

Contacting SharePoint Ad-hoc Support (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)

If you are interested in our SharePoint ad-hoc support, you can contact us via our website. In this case, we process your data to process your enquiry and as part of the pre-contractual contract initiation.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed in that you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. This is your name, company and email address. Furthermore, you can optionally enter your telephone number if you wish. In addition, your IP address will be processed for technical reasons and for legal protection.

We will only store your personal data for as long as is necessary to achieve the stated purposes. Your personal data will be deleted after 24 months.

SharePoint ad-hoc support (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)

If you would like to use our remote service SharePoint Ad-hoc Support, you can send us the document provided for this purpose by e-mail or fax. We process the data you provide in it to process your enquiry and to execute or process the contract.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed in that you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. This is the company name, the company address, the name of the relevant contact person, your e-mail address and your telephone number.

Without this data, we will unfortunately have to refuse to conclude the contract, as we will then not be able to carry it out or may have to terminate an existing contract. Of course, you can also provide more data of your own accord if you wish.

To send you further information, offers, white papers, presentations, webinar recordings or when registering for events (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR)

There is a form on our website where you can request the sending of presentations, information and webinar recordings, or register for events. If you write to us about this, we will process the data you provide for the purpose of contacting you and sending you the documents you have requested, or registering for the events.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed in that you only have to provide the data that we absolutely need to contact you. This is your first and last name, your email address, and the name of your company. In addition, your IP address will be processed for technical reasons and for legal protection.

We will only store your personal data for as long as is necessary to achieve the stated purposes. Your personal data will be deleted after 24 months.

14. Newsletter (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a EU GDPR)

You can subscribe to a free newsletter on our website. The e-mail address provided when registering for the newsletter and, if applicable, your name will be used to send the personalized newsletter, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR.

The principle of data economy and data avoidance is observed, as only the e-mail address (if applicable, e-mail address) is required as a mandatory field. Your name in the case of personalized newsletters). For technical reasons and for legal protection, your IP address will also be processed when you order the newsletter.

Please note that we use HubSpot to send our newsletter. All information on data processing can be found under point 18. HubSpot is a service that can be used to organize and analyze the sending of newsletters. The email addresses of our newsletter recipients as well as other data provided during the registration process are stored on HubSpot's servers in the EU. HubSpot uses this information to send and evaluate the newsletters on our behalf. On the one hand, it can be determined whether a newsletter message has been opened and which links have been clicked, if any. In addition, technical information is collected (e.g. time of access, IP address, browser type and operating system). The results of these analyses can be used to better tailor future newsletters to the interests of the recipients and thus optimize our newsletter as a whole.

If you do not want HubSpot to analyze your newsletter, you will need to unsubscribe from the newsletter. For this purpose, we provide a corresponding link in each newsletter message. Furthermore, you can also unsubscribe from the newsletter directly on the website.

For sending newsletters by e-mail, we use the so-called double opt-in procedure. This means that you will only receive advertising by e-mail if you have previously expressly confirmed that you want us to activate the newsletter service. We do this by sending you a notification email and asking you to confirm that you wish to receive our newsletter to that email address by clicking on a link contained in that email.

15. Advertising purposes for existing customers (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR)

We are interested in maintaining the customer relationship with you and providing you with information and offers about our products/services. Therefore, we process your data in order to send you relevant information and offers by e-mail and for customer satisfaction surveys. Promotional purposes may include, but are not limited to: offers and software licenses, events and webcasts, promotions and offers, as well as relevant news from the collaboration world.

If you do not wish this, you can object at any time to the use of your personal data for the purpose of direct marketing; this also applies to profiling, insofar as it is related to direct advertising. If you object, we will no longer process your data for this purpose.

The objection can be made free of charge and in any form without giving reasons and should preferably be sent to fon +49 (40) 2880 7590 - 0, by e-mail to kontakt@hansevision.de or by post to HanseVision GmbH (a Bechtle Group company), Atlantic Haus, Bernhard-Nocht-Strasse 113, 20359 Hamburg.

16. Applicant Portal - Art. 6 (1) (a), (b) GDPR

Thank you for your interest in working at HanseVision. We are aware of the importance of your data and process the personal data provided by you as part of the application form only for the purpose of the effective and correct handling of the application process and for contacting you in the context of the application process, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a, b GDPR in conjunction with §26 BDSG. The data will not be passed on to third parties without your consent.

As part of the classic application form, you will be asked to provide personal data. In doing so, we observe the principle of data economy and data avoidance, in that you only have to provide us with the data that we need for a complete review of your application documents, such as: Your CV or that we are legally obliged to collect. This mandatory information is marked with an *(asterisk). For technical reasons and for legal protection, your IP address will also be processed.

Without this data, we unfortunately cannot check your application documents, so our application system does not allow you to upload the application documents in this case. Of course, you have the option of providing voluntary information in the application form.

In order to protect the security and confidentiality of your data in the best possible way, we implement appropriate security measures. Your application documents will be transmitted to us encrypted by our application system SSL.

You can also apply via our 'Quick Application Form'. In doing so, we also collect and process the data provided therein for the effective and correct handling of the application process and for the establishment of contact within the framework of the application process, Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a, b GDPR in conjunction with §26 BDSG.

As part of the 'Quick Application Form', you will be asked to indicate the position you are interested in, the link to your Xing/LinkedIn/Viadeo profile and your salary expectations.

We will store your data for the purposes mentioned above until the application process has been completed and the relevant deadlines have expired - no later than six months after receipt of a decision. However, you have the option of having us store your application documents for a longer period of time and compare them with other vacancies that match your profile.

For this we need your consent, which you can give us by clicking on the checkbox before uploading your application documents. In this case, we will store your data for 12 months.

Of course, you can revoke your consent at any time without giving reasons with effect for the future by e-mail to HanseVision Data Protection E-mail: dsgvo@hansevision.de by telephone at +49 (40) 2880 7590 – 0 or by post to HanseVision GmbH (a Bechtle Group company), Atlantic Haus, Bernhard-Nocht-Strasse 113, 20359 Hamburg.

17. Cookies (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a, f GDPR, § 25 para. 1, 2 TDDDG)

Our websites use so-called cookies in several places. They serve to make our offer more user-friendly, effective and secure. Cookies are small text files that are stored and stored on your device and that your browser stores (locally on your device). Cookies contain only pseudonymous, usually even anonymous data. Some cookies remain for the duration of a browser session (so-called session cookies), others are stored for a longer period of time (so-called persistent cookies, e.g. consent settings). The latter are automatically deleted after the specified time (usually 6 months). In addition to our own cookies, we also use cookies that are controlled by third-party providers. They use the information contained in the cookies, for example, to display content to you or to record the pages you have visited.

Due to our legitimate interest (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. f GDPR), we use technically necessary cookies that are necessary for the operation of the website and to ensure its functionality. Furthermore, we use cookies without your consent if their sole purpose is to store or access information stored in the end device for the transmission of messages or if these are absolutely necessary to be able to provide the service you expressly requested, § 25 para. 2 TDDDG.

In addition, with your consent, we also set other cookies. These cookies allow us to analyse how users use our websites. This allows us to tailor the website content to the needs of visitors. In addition, cookies allow us to measure the effectiveness of a particular ad and to place it based on the user's thematic interests, for example. The legal basis for this is your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, §25 para. 1 TDDDG).

If you have given your consent here, you can of course revoke it at any time with effect for the future without giving reasons.

If you maintain accounts with the third-party providers we use and are logged in there, your data may be linked to the respective account. You can avoid such a merging by not giving or withdrawing your consent to the cookies in question, or by logging out of the relevant third-party service providers in advance.

Most web browsers automatically accept cookies. Of course, you can also deactivate, restrict or delete cookies manually on your device via the settings of your browser or with the help of software.

Please note: If you deactivate the setting of cookies, it may not be possible to fully use all functions of our website.

Please also note our information in the section of the respective service that uses cookies.

All cookies and information can be found here: <https://www.hansevision.com/cookie-richtlinie.html>

18. Tools used

Cookiebot

To obtain and manage your consent, we use the cookiebot.com service of the company Cybot A/S, Havnegade 39, 1058 Copenhagen, Denmark on our website. Cybot A/S is part of the German group of companies Usercentrics (Usercentrics GmbH, Sendlinger Straße 7, 80331 Munich, Germany).

Cookiebot Consent Management collects device information, browser information, opt-in and opt-out data, date and time of visit, request URLs and page path of the website via JavaScript. This JavaScript enables the provider to inform the user about certain tags and web technologies on our website and to obtain, manage and document their consent.

The legal basis for the processing of consent and evidence data is Art. 6 (1) (c) GDPR in conjunction with Art. 7 (1) and Art. 5 (2) GDPR. Endpoint access to store the consent status is carried out separately in accordance with Section 25 (2) No. 2 TDDDG.

The consent data is stored on servers within the European Union. A transfer to third countries does not take place.

The data is deleted as soon as it is no longer required for logging and there are no legal retention obligations. The consent data (consent and withdrawal of consent) will be stored for three years. The data is then deleted immediately or passed on to the responsible body on request in the form of a data export. The user can permanently prevent the execution of JavaScript at any time by making appropriate settings in his browser, which would also prevent the provider from executing the JavaScript.

Further information on the handling of the transmitted data can be found in the privacy policy of the direct provider under <https://www.cookiebot.com/de/privacy-policy/> .

Weebly (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR, §25 para. 2 TDDDG)

Our website is operated by the US company Weebly, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "Weebly") is hosted in San Francisco and operated with software from this company. When you use our website, log files are transmitted to Weebly. Information relevant to hosting is processed here. This can be, for example, the browser type used, operating system, referrer URL, date and time of website access or your IP address.

The temporary data from the log files is automatically processed and deleted. This serves the following purposes: to ensure a smooth connection to the website, to ensure comfortable use of our website, to evaluate system security and stability and for administrative purposes.

As part of the use of this service, personal data may be transferred and processed outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), including the United States. If you transfer your data to the United States, there is a risk that authorities may be able to access your data without any legal remedies available to you. Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed.

If, in exceptional cases, a transfer takes place solely on the basis of your express consent, you will be informed separately about this and the associated risks.

Weebly's detailed privacy statement can be found at <https://www.weebly.com/de/privacy>.

A detailed description of your rights as a data subject can be found in this privacy policy.

Adobe Fonts

We use Adobe Fonts to design our website in a visually appealing way. Fonts is a service provided by Adobe Systems Software Ireland Ltd. (4-6 Riverwalk, Citywest Business Campus, Saggart Dublin 24., Saggart, Dublin, Ireland; hereinafter "Adobe") that enables us to access Adobe's font library. This service is used for the uniform display of fonts.

In order to integrate the fonts we use, your web browser must connect to an Adobe server in the United States and download the font you need. Adobe thus receives the information that our website has been accessed from the IP address of your device.

As part of the use of this service, personal data may be transferred and processed outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), including the United States. If you transfer your data to the United States, there is a risk that authorities may be able to access your data without any legal remedies available to you. Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed. Adobe Inc. is certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), so that an appropriate level of data protection is generally assumed. If, in exceptional cases, a transfer takes place solely on the basis of your express consent, you will be informed separately about this and the associated risks.

The use of Adobe TypeKit Fonts is in the interest of a uniform and appealing presentation of our online offers. The legal basis for this is Art. 6 (1) (f) GDPR, § 25 (2) TDDDG. [RH1]

According to Adobe, your IP address will be stored for a short time to provide the fonts and deleted after 30 days at the latest.

You can set your browser so that the fonts are not loaded by the Adobe servers (e.g. by installing add-ons such as NoScript or Ghostery). If your browser does not support Adobe Fonts or you prevent access to the Adobe servers, the text will be displayed in the system's default font.

For more information about Adobe's privacy policy and terms of use, please visit:

A detailed description of your rights as a data subject can be found in this privacy policy.

Google Ads Conversation Tracking

On this website, we use Google Ads Conversation Tracking and the remarketing service of Google Ireland Limited, Google Building Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, D04 E5W5, Ireland ("Google").

The Google Remarketing service allows us to display advertisements for our website in a more targeted manner that are potentially more relevant to the user personally. For example, if a user is shown ads for products that they have been interested in on other websites, this is called "remarketing". For these purposes, so-called remarketing tags (invisible graphics or code, also known as "web beacons") are integrated when our website is accessed. This file notes which websites the user has visited, what content he is interested in and which offers he has clicked on, as well as technical information on the browser and operating system, referring websites, time of visit and other information on the use of the online offer. The IP address of the users is also recorded, although only in exceptional cases is the full IP address transmitted to a Google server in the USA and shortened there.

When the user subsequently visits other websites, the ads tailored to him can be shown according to his interests. User data is processed pseudonymously as part of Google marketing services. This means that Google does not store and process the name or e-mail address of the users, for example, but processes the relevant data on a cookie-related basis within pseudonymous user profiles. This means that from Google's point of view, the ads are not managed and displayed for a specifically identified person, but for the cookie owner, regardless of who that cookie holder is. This does not apply if a user has expressly allowed Google to process the data without this pseudonymization. The information collected about users by Google Marketing Services is transmitted to Google and stored on Google's servers in the United States.

This service may transfer the collected data to another country. Please note that this service may transfer data outside the European Union and the European Economic Area and to a country that does not provide an adequate level of data protection. If the data is transferred to the USA, there is a risk that your data may be processed by US authorities for control and monitoring purposes, without you being entitled to any legal remedy. However, we take the possible and data protection measures necessary in accordance with Art. 44 et seq. EU GDPR to establish the level of data protection in the third country.

The advertising audiences created with Google Remarketing can be linked through Google's cross-device features. In this way, interest-based, personalised advertising messages that have been adapted to you depending on your previous usage and surfing behaviour on one device (e.g. mobile phone) can also be displayed on another of your devices (e.g. tablet or PC).

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data is your consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, §25 para. 1 TDDDG. You can revoke your consent at any time. You can also opt out of conversation tracking via the Google Marketing Platform opt-out page. Further information on Google's use of data for marketing purposes can be found at: <https://policies.google.com/technologies/ads?hl=de>. Google's privacy policy can be found at <https://www.google.com/policies/privacy>.

The cookies used expire after 30 days and do not serve your personal identification. If you visit certain pages of our website and the cookie has not expired, Google and we can recognise that you have clicked on the ad and have been redirected to that page.

Snowplow Analytics

On our website, we use the services of Snowplow Analytics Limited, 17 Bevis Marks, Floor 6, London, EC3A 7LN, Great Britain, which are automatically integrated via the website provider Weebly. The following data about you will be stored:

IP address

Referrer URL

Information about your device

Browser Information

Date and time of access

The cookies are automatically deleted by the system as soon as they are no longer required for our purposes. A direct personal reference is excluded at all times. The data collected in this way is used to create anonymous usage profiles, which form the basis for web statistics. With the help of these cookies, it is possible, for example, to evaluate how often you visit our website or which (sub-)pages are accessed. This allows us to continuously improve the website.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data is your consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, §25 para. 1 TDDDG. You can revoke your consent at any time.

LinkedIn

On our website, we use the services of LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland (hereinafter referred to as "LinkedIn"). We use the analysis and conversation tracking technology, so-called marketing solutions and the so-called lead forms of LinkedIn.

The following data about you will be stored:

- Referrer URL
- IP address
- Information about your device
- Browser Information
- Page Activities
- Date and time of access

If you have a LinkedIn user account, LinkedIn is able to link your visit to our website to your user account.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data is your consent in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, §25 para. 1 TDDDG. You can revoke your consent at any time.

The analytics and conversation tracking technology allows us to show you more relevant advertisements based on your interests and to receive reports on how you interact with our website as a user.

LinkedIn Marketing Solutions stores and processes information about your user behavior on our website. LinkedIn Marketing Solutions uses cookies for this purpose, which are stored locally in the cache of your web browser on your device and which enable an analysis of your use of our website.

We use LinkedIn Marketing Solutions for marketing and optimization purposes, in particular to analyze the use of our website and to be able to continuously improve individual functions and offers as well as the user experience. By statistically evaluating user behaviour, we can improve our offer and make it more interesting for you as a user.

By using the lead forms, you can get in touch with us and request information. If you make use of this option and agree to this, we will transfer the information you enter to our customer database (CRM system) and, if necessary, link it with other information you have in order to improve our offer in the future and make it more interesting for you.

We delete or anonymize the data collected by LinkedIn as soon as it is no longer necessary for our purposes. This is the case after 24 months at the latest.

Please note that this may also involve a transfer to third countries, so there is a risk that your data may be processed by US authorities for control and surveillance purposes without you being entitled to legal remedies. However, we take the possible measures necessary under data protection law in accordance with Art. 44 et seq. GDPR to establish the level of data protection in the third country.

LinkedIn Pixel / LinkedIn Insight Tag

On the basis of your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR in conjunction with § 25 para. 1 TDDDG), this website uses the analysis and conversion tracking technology ("Insight Tag") of LinkedIn, LinkedIn Inc., 1000 West Maude Avenue, Sunnyvale, CA 94085, USA and LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland. The LinkedIn Insight Tag is only integrated and used after you have given your consent in the consent banner.

This allows us to show you more relevant, interest-based advertising on the LinkedIn network, measure and optimize the performance of our campaigns, and obtain anonymous reports on ad activity and user engagement aggregated by LinkedIn.

LinkedIn uses cookies or similar technologies when loading this page and interacting with ads to recognize your browser via pseudonymous identification numbers. In particular, the following may be recorded: cookie or advertising ID, IP address (shortened), device and browser information, referrer URL, time stamp, click and conversion events. LinkedIn may combine the collected data with other data stored by LinkedIn and process it for its own purposes, such as profiling and improving its own services, under its own responsibility. We have no influence on this further data processing. Other recipients of the data may be affiliates of the LinkedIn Group as well as processors commissioned by LinkedIn.

As part of the use of this service, personal data may be transferred and processed outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), including the United States. Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed. Despite existing safeguards, there may be a residual risk that data will be accessed by authorities without effective legal remedies available to you when data is transferred to third countries, in particular to the USA.

The cookies set by LinkedIn remain on your device until you actively delete them or they are automatically removed according to the settings of your browser or device. According to LinkedIn, personal data is generally stored for a period of up to 180 days. You can find more information on the specific storage periods and the criteria for data deletion in LinkedIn's privacy policy: <https://www.linkedin.com/legal/privacy-policy>.

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To do this, use the settings in our consent banner or the respective setting options of the services and tools you use. Please note that changes in the consent settings must be made separately for each device and, if applicable, for each browser used. In addition, you can delete cookies or similar technologies that have already been set via the settings of your browser or device and thus prevent further processing. Further information on the management options and the deactivation of cookies and tracking technologies can be found on the websites of the respective providers.

You can find more information about your rights in our general data protection notice.

HubSpot

On our website, we use "Marketing Hub", a service provided by HubSpot Ireland Ltd., 1 Sir Rogerson's Quay, Dublin 2, Ireland (hereinafter referred to as: "HubSpot").

The legal basis for the use of Marketing Hub is your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR, §25 para. 1 TDDDG), which you can revoke at any time here.

The personal data will be kept for as long as it is necessary to fulfil the purpose of processing and will then be deleted. This is usually the case after 6 months.

Please note that this may also involve a transfer to a third country, so there is a risk that your data may be processed by US authorities for control and surveillance purposes without you being entitled to legal remedies. However, we take the possible measures necessary under data protection law in accordance with Art. 44 et seq. EU GDPR to establish the level of data protection in the third country.

You can find more information from HubSpot about data protection here.

DoubleClick (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR, § 25 para. 1 TDDDG)[RH1]

On the basis of your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR and § 25 para. 1 TDDDG), this website uses DoubleClick, a service of Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland.

DoubleClick Floodlight is a tracking and analysis tool of the Google Marketing Platform that makes it possible to evaluate user behavior on our website, measure campaign success and display interest-based online advertising. For this purpose, cookies and similar technologies are used to recognize your device and record your usage behavior.

When using DoubleClick, information such as your IP address, technical data on the device and browser used, pages accessed, interactions (e.g. clicks, conversion actions) and times of use are recorded and transmitted to Google Ireland Limited. Google may combine this data with other data and process it for its own purposes, in particular for profiling and personalised advertising. Google is independently responsible for this processing. For more information, see Google's privacy policy.

As part of the use of this service, it is possible that personal data may be transferred outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), in particular to the USA, and processed there. If you transfer data to the United States, there is a risk that authorities may be able to access your data without effective legal remedies available to you.

Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed. Google LLC is certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), so that an appropriate level of data protection is generally assumed. If, in exceptional cases, a transfer takes place solely on the basis of your express consent, you will be informed separately about this and the associated risks.

The storage period of the data collected by DoubleClick depends on the respective purposes and settings of Google as well as the cookies used. Further details can be found in the privacy policy of the Google Marketing Platform and the tools used.

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To do this, use the settings in our consent banner or the respective setting options of the services and tools you use. Please note that changes in the consent settings must be made separately for each device and, if applicable, for each browser used. By revoking your consent, no further data will be collected or transmitted to Google via DoubleClick.

In addition, you can delete cookies or similar technologies that have already been set via the settings of your browser or device and thus prevent further processing. Further information on the management options and the deactivation of cookies and tracking technologies can be found on the websites of the respective providers.

Further information on the terms of use and data protection can be found under the following links:

Terms of use Google Marketing Platform:

<https://marketingplatform.google.com/about/analytics/tag-manager/use-policy/>

Google Privacy Policy and Terms of Service: <https://www.google.de/intl/de/policies/privacy/>

A detailed description of your rights as a data subject can be found in this privacy policy.

YouTube platform (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR, § 25 para. 1 TDDDG)

On our website, we have integrated videos from the YouTube platform (embeds). Data is always transmitted to the server of the corresponding platform. The embedding on YouTube is done by the technical process of so-called framing. In framing, the mere insertion of an HTML link provided by YouTube into the code of a website creates a reproduction frame on the third-party website and thus enables the video stored on YouTube servers to be played.

We use the framing codes generated by YouTube in what is known as "enhanced privacy mode". According to the information provided by the YouTube platform, the cookie activity and the data collection initiated by it are only linked to the use of the playback function of the video itself. Against this background, the collection of data through the mere use of the website with framed content is prohibited.

In order to be able to play the YouTube content, we need your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a) GDPR, § 25 para. 1 TDDDG), which you can give – if you have not already given it as part of your cookie selection – via the button in the respective section of the video. By clicking on the play button, you agree that your IP address may be transmitted to YouTube (YouTube, LLC 901 Cherry Ave. San Bruno, CA 94066 USA), and that the provider places cookies on your browser.

In this case, a transfer to a third country takes place, so that in this case there is a risk that your data can be processed by US authorities for control and monitoring purposes, without you possibly having the right to appeal. However, we take the possible measures necessary under data protection law in accordance with Art. 44 et seq. GDPR to establish the level of data protection in the third country.

For your convenience, we remember your consent for 90 days via a so-called Local Storage object, which we store in your browser. Once consent has been given, it can be revoked at any time.

Google Tag Manager[RH1]

On the basis of your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, as well as § 25 para. 1 TDDDG), this website uses Google Tag Manager, a service of Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland.

The Google Tag Manager makes it possible to manage website tags from a central interface. It is used to control scripts, which in turn can trigger data processing. However, Google Tag Manager itself does not access the collected data. If a deactivation has been made at the domain or cookie level, it will remain in place for all tracking tags implemented with Google Tag Manager.

Google Tag Manager does not set cookies itself and does not store any personal data. It is used exclusively for the implementation and control of downstream data-collecting tags, to which consent may have to be given under certain circumstances. Although Google Tag Manager does not store personal data, the tag infrastructure provided by Tag Manager may result in data processing.

As part of the use of Google Tag Manager, connection data (e.g. your IP address) to Google Ireland Limited. Google may combine this data with other data and process it for its own purposes. Google is independently responsible for this processing. For more information, see Google's privacy policy.

As part of the use of this service, personal data may be transferred and processed outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), including the United States. If you transfer your data to the United States, there is a risk that authorities may be able to access your data without any legal remedies available to you. Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed. Google LLC is certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), so that an appropriate level of data protection is generally assumed. If, in exceptional cases, a transfer takes place solely on the basis of your express consent, you will be informed separately about this and the associated risks.

The storage period of the data collected by Google Tag Manager depends on the respective tags controlled by Google Tag Manager. Since the Google Tag Manager itself does not store any data, the storage period depends on the settings of the downstream tools (e.g. Google Analytics, Google Ads). Further details can be found in the privacy policy of the respective tools.

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To do this, use the settings in our consent banner or the respective setting options of the services and tools you use. Please note that changes in the consent settings must be made separately for each device and, if applicable, for each browser used. By revoking your consent, no further tags will be triggered via Google Tag Manager and therefore no more data will be transmitted to Google or other providers.

In addition, you can delete cookies or similar technologies that have already been set via the settings of your browser or device and thus prevent further processing. Further information on the management options and the deactivation of cookies and tracking technologies can be found on the websites of the respective providers.

Google Maps[RH1]

On the basis of your consent (Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a GDPR, as well as § 25 para. 1 TDDDG), this website uses Google Maps, a service of Google Ireland Limited, Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland.

Google Maps makes it possible to display geographical information visually on the website. The integration takes place by means of an interface through which corresponding content and functions are provided by Google. When using Google Maps, connection data (e.g. your IP address, device information, browser data and, if applicable, location data) to Google Ireland Limited. Google may combine this data with other data and process it for its own purposes. Google is independently responsible for this processing. You can find more information about this in Google's privacy policy.

As part of the use of this service, personal data may be transferred and processed outside the European Union and the European Economic Area ("third countries"), including the United States. If you transfer your data to the United States, there is a risk that authorities may be able to access your data without any legal remedies available to you. Appropriate safeguards, in particular standard contractual clauses, will be used for these transfers to ensure a level of protection comparable to European data protection standards. If a transfer is made to a US company certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), an appropriate level of data protection is assumed. Google LLC is certified according to the "EU-US Data Privacy Framework" (DPF), so that an appropriate level of data protection is generally assumed. If, in exceptional cases, a transfer takes place solely on the basis of your express consent, you will be informed separately about this and the associated risks.

The storage period of the data collected through the use of Google Maps is based on Google's specifications. Further details can be found in Google's privacy policy and in the Google Maps help center.

You can revoke your consent at any time with effect for the future. To do this, use the settings in our consent banner or the respective setting options of the services and tools you use. Please note that changes in the consent settings must be made separately for each device and, if applicable, for each browser used. By revoking your consent, no further content will be loaded from Google Maps and no further data will be transmitted to Google.

In addition, you can delete cookies or similar technologies that have already been set via the settings of your browser or device and thus prevent further processing. Further information on the management options and the deactivation of cookies and tracking technologies can be found on the websites of the respective providers.

19. Social Media

Social plugins of social media

There are no social plugins active on our website.

Links & Buttons Social Media

On our website you will find links to the social media services of YouTube, LinkedIn, Xing, Kununu, Facebook. Links to the websites of the social media services can be recognized by the respective company logo. If you follow these links, you will reach our company presences on the respective social media service. When clicking on a link to a social media service, a connection to the servers of the social media service is established. This transmits to the servers of the social media service that you have visited our website. In addition, further data is transmitted to the provider of the social media service. These are, for example:

Address of the web page where the activated link is located

Date and time of accessing the website or activating the link

Information about the browser and operating system used

IP address

If you are already logged in to the relevant social media service at the time the link is activated, the provider of the social media service may be able to determine your username and, if applicable, even your real name from the transmitted data and assign this information to your personal user account with the social media service. You can exclude this possibility of assignment to your personal user account if you log out of your user account beforehand.

The servers of the social media services are located in the USA and other countries outside the European Union. The data may therefore also be processed by the provider of the social media service in countries outside the European Union. Please note that companies in these countries are subject to a data protection law that does not protect personal data in general to the same extent as is the case in the member states of the European Union.

Please note that we have no influence on the scope, type and purpose of data processing by the provider of the social media service. For more information on the use of your data by the social media services integrated on our website, please refer to the privacy policy of the respective social media service.

We also use LinkedIn, the "Share function" of the LinkedIn network. The provider is LinkedIn Corporation, 2029 Stierlin Court, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA.

If you click on the LinkedIn "Share button", you will be redirected to your user account in a separate browser window – provided you are logged in to your LinkedIn user account – and can share the electronic publication stored on our website by adding a comment. This establishes a direct connection between your browser and the LinkedIn server. LinkedIn thus receives the information that you have visited our website with your IP address. In addition, LinkedIn will then be able to assign your visit to our website to you and your user account.

Please note that this service may transfer data outside the European Union and the European Economic Area and to a country that does not provide an adequate level of data protection. If the data is transferred to the USA, there is a risk that your data may be processed by US authorities for control and monitoring purposes, without you being entitled to any legal remedy. However, we take the possible measures necessary under data protection law in accordance with Art. 44 et seq. GDPR to establish the level of data protection in the third country.

We would like to point out that we have no knowledge of the content of the transmitted (personal) data or its use by LinkedIn. If you do not want LinkedIn to be able to assign your visit to our pages to your LinkedIn user account, please log out of your LinkedIn user account.

For more information, please refer to LinkedIn's privacy policy at:

<https://www.linkedin.com/legal/privacy-policy>

20. Privacy Policy / Information on Data Protection in Social Media

We maintain appearances in the "social media", in this case on Facebook, YouTube, Xing and LinkedIn. To the extent that we have control over the processing of your data, we ensure that the applicable data protection regulations are complied with.

Below you will find the most important information on data protection law in relation to our websites.

Name and address of the person responsible for the operation

In addition to HanseVision GmbH, the company is responsible for the corporate presence within the meaning of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and other data protection regulations

Facebook

(Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd., 4 Grand Canal Square, Grand Canal Harbour, Dublin 2, Ireland)

LinkedIn

(LinkedIn Ireland Unlimited Company, Wilton Place, Dublin 2, Ireland)

Facebook

(New Work SE, Dammtorstraße 30, 20354 Hamburg, Germany)

YouTube

(Google Ireland Ltd., Gordon House, Barrow Street, Dublin 4, Ireland)

However, you use these platforms and their functions at your own risk. This applies in particular to the use of the interactive functions (e.g. commenting, sharing, rating).

We would also like to point out that your data may be processed outside the area of the European Union.

Purpose and legal basis

We ourselves maintain the fan pages in order to communicate with the visitors of these pages and to inform them about our offers in this way.

In addition, we collect data for statistical purposes in order to be able to further develop and optimize the content and to make our offer more attractive. The data required for this purpose (e.g. total number of page views, page activity and data provided by visitors, interactions) will be processed by the social networks and made available to us. We have no influence on the generation and display.

In addition, your personal data will be processed by social media providers for market research and advertising purposes. For example, it is possible for usage profiles to be created based on your usage behavior and the resulting interests. This allows you to place ads on and off the platforms that match your interests, among other things. As a rule, cookies are stored on your computer for this purpose. Regardless of this, data that is not collected directly on your end devices may also be stored in your usage profiles. The storage and analysis also takes place across devices, this applies in particular, but not exclusively, if you are registered as a member and logged in to the respective platforms.

In addition, we do not collect or process any personal data.

The processing of your personal data by HanseVision GmbH is carried out on the basis of our legitimate interests in effective information and communication in accordance with Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (f) GDPR.

If you are asked for consent to data processing, i.e. if you declare your consent by confirming a button or similar (opt-in), the legal basis for the processing is Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a., Art. 7 GDPR.

Your rights / Objection

If you are a member of a social network and do not want the network to collect data about you via our website and link it to your stored member data with the respective network, you must log out of the respective network before visiting our fan page, delete the cookies present on the device, and

Quit and restart your browser.

However, after logging in again, you will be recognisable to the network as a specific user.

For a detailed description of the respective processing and the options for objection (opt-out), we refer to the following linked information:

Overall, you have the following rights in relation to the processing of your personal data:

Right to information; Right to rectification; Right to erasure; Right to restriction of processing; Right to object; Right to data portability; Right to lodge a complaint about unlawful processing of your personal data with the competent data protection authority.

However, since HanseVision GmbH does not have complete access to your personal data, you should contact the social media providers directly when asserting your claim, because they each have access to the personal data of their users and can take appropriate measures and provide information.

If you still need help, we will of course try to support you. Please contact us:
dsgvo@hansevision.de.

Notes on copyright and art copyright

If you want to publish images, texts, plans, videos, music, etc. on our website, you should know that you may thereby assign all rights of use to the network, which could ultimately have legal consequences for you if you are not the author or rights holder yourself.

Links to other providers

Our website also contains - clearly recognizable - links to the websites of other companies. If there are links to websites of other providers, we have no influence on their content.

Therefore, no guarantee or liability can be assumed for this content. The respective provider or operator of the pages is always responsible for the content of these pages.

At the time of linking, the linked pages were checked for possible violations of the law and recognizable violations of the law. Illegal content was not recognizable at the time of linking. However, a permanent control of the content of the linked pages is not reasonable without concrete indications of a violation of the law. If violations of the law become known, such links will be removed immediately.

Online offers for children

Persons under the age of 16 may not transmit personal data to us or submit a declaration of consent without the consent of their legal guardians. We encourage parents and guardians to actively participate in their children's online activities and interests.
